9. You have been tasked with designing and implementing a data center network. You are ready to configure a Cisco Unified Computing System to Nexus 7000 connection. To ensure active/active forwarding for all VLANs on all Cisco Unified Computing System uplinks toward the Cisco Nexus 7000 switches, what is the correct configuration?
A. VSS between the two northbound Cisco Nexus 7000 switches and leave the fabric interconnects in their default mode.
B. vPC on the Cisco Nexus 7000 switches with the Cisco Unified Computing System fabric interconnects running in end-host mode.
C. vPC on the Cisco Nexus 7000 switches with the Cisco Unified Computing System fabric interconnects running in switch mode.

Answer: B

10. You are deploying a new rack into your data center. This rack requires 10 x 1-Gb connections and 10 x 10-Gb connections. Which product would be best suited, and minimize unused ports, to provide networking connectivity to this rack?
A. Cisco Nexus 5010 because it supports 10 ports as either 1-Gb or 10-Gb
B. Cisco Nexus 5010 because it supports 20 ports as either 1-Gb or 10-Gb
C. Cisco Nexus 5020 because it supports 16 ports as either 1-Gb or 10-Gb
